

October 2025
B.A./B.Sc.
Fifth Semester
CORE – 12
ANTHROPOLOGY
Course Code: ANC 5.21
(Anthropology in Practice)

Total Mark: 70

Pass Mark: 28

Time: 3 hours

Answer five questions, taking one from each unit.

UNIT-I

1. Differentiate between academic and practicing anthropology. Discuss on the contribution of Sol Tax to the development of action anthropology. 4+10=14
2. Discuss on the essence of anthropology in addressing real world problem and the ethical challenges faced by anthropologist working in applied context. 7+7=14

UNIT-II

3. Explain Nader's approach of studying up in anthropology of public policy. How does anthropological perspective contribute to making public policy more inclusive and people-centred? 4+10=14
4. Define need assessment. Discuss the different types of needs and the importance of need assessment in development. 4+10=14

UNIT-III

5. Define anthropology of tourism. Explain how tourism anthropology can contribute towards understanding the impact of tourism on local cultures with special reference to Nagaland. 2+12=14
6. What are human rights? Elucidate the American Anthropological Association's statement of human rights and its implication on the contribution of anthropology in bridging the gap between universal human rights and cultural relativism. 2+12=14

UNIT-IV

7. Discuss on the meaning and scope of sports anthropology. Analyse the importance of body composition and physiology from an anthropological perspective in sports performance. 7+7=14
8. Define ergonomics. Discuss how applied physical anthropology and ergonomics intersect in improving occupational health stating relevant example. 2+12=14

UNIT-V

9. Define cultural resource management. Discuss on the scope and historical development of cultural resource management. 2+12=14
 10. Examine the significance of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Sites and Remains (AMASR) Act, 1958 in heritage conservation. 14
-